Our Parent-Teacher Interviews this year were wonderfully successful, bringing together parents and teachers through more than 120 in-person and virtual meetings. These conversations provided a valuable opportunity to celebrate achievements, discuss progress, and collaborate on strategies for continued student success. The Elementary Curriculum Night was a truly wonderful and engaging event that brought our school community together. Parents were warmly welcomed to campus, where they had the opportunity to explore their children's impressive classwork and creative projects. The evening offered an authentic glimpse into students' daily learning experiences, allowing families to better understand the curriculum and teaching approaches that inspire growth and curiosity.

In addition to showcasing student achievements, the event also fostered meaningful conversations between parents, teachers, and staff. Together, we discussed how strong communication and collaboration between home and school play a vital role in supporting every child's academic and personal success. We extend our heartfelt appreciation to all parents who attended and thank you for your continued trust and partnership in your children's education.

Wilfrid Laurier University Visit

November 5, 2025

Our Grades 11 and 12 students visited Wilfrid Laurier University (WLU), one of our valued university partners, in November. Situated in the vibrant city of Waterloo, WLU is recognized for its innovative programs that connect academic excellence with hands-on, real-world learning experiences.

During the visit, students enjoyed an engaging campus tour led by WLU's Student Ambassadors, who shared insights about campus life, academic programs, and student support services. They also learned about the exclusive advantages and opportunities available to J. Addison graduates through our partnership with the university.

We express our heartfelt appreciation to the staff and representatives of Wilfrid Laurier University for their hospitality and for making this visit both educational and memorable.

"United Way-Climb Up" Volunteering Activity Natalie C. (Grade 11 - Hong Kong, China)

On November 16th, 27 day and dorm students volunteered for the United Way-Climb Up event at CN Tower, Toronto's most iconic landmark. We all woke up at 3:00 AM in the morning, got our volunteer T-shirts, and headed to our assigned positions. There were various jobs, including greeting participants, handing out wristbands, managing registrations, and working at water and food stations. All the high school students contributed throughout the night and into the next day. Imagine starting work early on a Sunday morning!

During the first part of the day, I worked as a wristband helper. I had to make sure the name list was delivered to the right people and cross off names once participants completed their registration. After four hours, when registration closed, I was assigned to help with coat check. Since I did a similar job before, I handled it pretty easily. My task was to receive numbered tags and find the corresponding bags or coats. It was pretty satisfying every time when I successfully found someone's belongings.

In fact, I learned that volunteering isn't just about earning community service hours; it's also a great opportunity to communicate with people and practice problem-solving skills. For example, congratulating runners who finished the climb or solving unexpected problems given by the managers. It may sound challenging, but I believe it's meaningful knowing that even a small contribution helped the event run more smoothly.

"Operation Christmas Child" Volunteering Activity Aneeqa S. K. (Grade 12 - Hong Kong, China)

November 27, 2025

On 27th November, students from J. Addison School had the wonderful opportunity to take part in a truly heart-warming volunteer event in support of Operation Christmas Child, a global initiative dedicated to sending gift-filled shoeboxes to children in need across the world. This meaningful experience allowed our students not only to give back to communities but also to learn firsthand the powerful impact of kindness, teamwork, and generosity.

Throughout the day, each student was assigned a specific role in the packing line to ensure every shoebox was prepared with care and love. My role involved unboxing the pre-made gifts, checking that each item included was appropriate, and adding extra presents so that every child would receive a box filled right to the top. Once completed, the shoeboxes were passed along to the next volunteer, who carefully wrapped them with tape to keep everything secure. Finally, we placed the finished shoeboxes into larger cartons, preparing them for their international journey.

The entire activity was not only enjoyable but also incredibly meaningful. Knowing that the gifts we prepared could brighten a child's day made the experience deeply rewarding. It served as a powerful reminder to all of us that even the smallest actions, like packing a simple shoebox, can make a big difference in someone's life.

Residence Council Leaders

Cristiano (Grade 9/10), Howard (Grade 9), and Jackie (Grade 9)

Being a part of the Residence Council is a great experience for us. It gives us an opportunity to learn how the dorm life functions and helps us build up the responsibility. It's very fun to help out the dorm students and dorm staff, and I enjoy being a Residence Council Leader too. - Cristiano

Residence Council teaches us a lot of leadership and self development skills. It shows us how to be a part of a team, and how to work effectively. We also get to know every dorm student and dorm staff, and create a homey environment for everyone. - Jackie

Living away from home teaches me independence. I share a room with a friend from another cultural background. We study and play together. Though I miss my family sometimes, dorm life makes me stronger and more mature. - Howard

Chemistry is FUN! Enthalpy of Neutralization

November 17, 2025

Grade 12 chemistry students engaged in a thermochemistry lab experiment, calculating the enthalpy of neutralization of a hydrochloric acid and sodium hydroxide reaction. Safety protocols were meticulously followed, with students wearing lab coats and goggles. We were impressed by their skillful use of our new measuring tools and their attention to proper laboratory procedures. "It was a rewarding experience to guide them through this hands-on learning opportunity", said Mr. Roman, our amazing Science Teacher.

Residence Council Trivia Night

Nicky Y. (Grade 12 - Hong Kong, China)

On Thursday, November 6, 2025, the Residence Council hosted a vibrant and unforgettable Trivia Night, drawing students together for an evening filled with excitement, teamwork, and plenty of friendly competition. Four eager teams gathered around the stage, all hoping to secure the single microphone placed at the center and be the first to answer a series of diverse multiple-choice questions displayed on the big screen. To keep everyone warm and energized, participants enjoyed steaming hot chocolate, a variety of flavorful teas, and ice cream sandwich bars, treats that were not only delicious but also added to the uplifting, cozy atmosphere of the night.

Each time a new question flashed onto the screen, players rushed forward with such enthusiasm that a few lighthearted collisions occurred, sparking even more laughter. The room buzzed with anticipation, and each attempt to grab the microphone came with a thrill of nerves and excitement. The energy remained high from start to finish, with cheers and smiles echoing throughout the event.

After a series of intense rounds and impressive displays of teamwork, our team emerged victorious, proudly claiming first place. As the winners, we were awarded a Pizza Gift Card, making the celebration even sweeter. Our strong team spirit and collective determination truly set us apart and made the experience all the more memorable.

Trivia Night was not only a competition, it was a celebration of community, collaboration, and joy. Thanks to the Residence Council and all participants, it became an evening that will be fondly remembered.

Roller Skating & Eaton Centre Shopping Trip Sarkis C. (Grade 12 - Hong Kong, China)

December 6, 2025

Our dorm students went on an exciting trip to downtown Toronto, and I had the chance to try roller skating for the very first time! Our day began at Union Station, where TD Bank was hosting a festive winter roller skating event. Walking into the station, I was amazed by the colourful decorations, the upbeat music, and the buzz of people skating and laughing around the rink. I felt a mix of nerves and excitement. I couldn't wait to step onto the rink and experience it for myself.

Lacing up my skates, I immediately felt the thrill of the moment. At first, I clung nervously to the edge, unsure of how to move. But the encouragement from the skaters around me gave me the confidence to let go. Slowly, I found my balance, and soon I was gliding across the floor, wobbling but smiling the whole time. The music, the cheers, and the festive atmosphere made the experience unforgettable, and I realized how much fun roller skating could be, even for a beginner like me. After a few hours on the rink, we were tired and hungry, so we headed to the Eaton Centre for some shopping. The energy from skating stayed with me as we explored the mall. I found some cute accessories, discovered unique gifts, and enjoyed the bustling holiday atmosphere. Shopping after skating felt like the perfect way to wind down while still soaking up the city's excitement.

On the bus ride back to school, I couldn't stop replaying the day in my mind. My first roller skating adventure in downtown Toronto was filled with laughter, small victories, and joyful memories, a perfect way to kick off the winter season before the break.

Annual Dorm Secret Santa (Gift Exchange) Social

December 11, 2025

Vanessa L. (Grade 12 - Hong Kong, China)

On December 11th, 2025, our dorm was filled with laughter, excitement, and holiday spirit during the annual Secret Santa Gift Exchange. This event brought every student together for a night of giving, guessing, and festive fun.

In the weeks leading up to the celebration, each student submitted a Google Form listing three gift ideas, giving their Secret Santa helpful hints while keeping the $20 limit in mind. I was thrilled to draw my friend's name and carefully selected a Sephora gift card from her wishlist. I wrapped it with care, added a cheerful card that read "Merry Christmas," and decorated the package with a bright, festive sticker to make it extra special.

The night of the exchange was nothing short of magical. The dorm team had set up a holiday spread of candies, cupcakes, and steaming hot chocolate, making the room feel cozy and cheerful. As gifts were unwrapped, everyone tried to guess their Secret Santa, sparking laughter and playful surprises. I was delighted to receive a game gift card from my Secret Santa, who, to my surprise, turned out to be my roommate! It was also hilarious watching my friend guess I was her Secret Santa almost immediately. The Secret Santa Gift Exchange was more than just presents; it was a chance to connect with friends and roommates, share laughter, and create lasting holiday memories before winter break. With joy, surprises, and plenty of festive cheer, this tradition reminded us all of the true spirit of the season: generosity, friendship, and fun.

Residence Council Christmas Caroling

December 16, 2025

Lily Y. X. (Grade 12 - Peru)

In the month of December, as the Christmas spirit filled our school, the Residence Council organized a joyful Christmas Caroling activity for the entire school community. We visited elementary and high school classes, singing cheerful Christmas carols and spreading holiday happiness everywhere we went.

One of the most special parts of the experience was visiting the elementary classes. The younger students were extremely excited and happy to see us, especially when one of our members dressed up as Santa Claus. Their smiles, laughter, and excitement made the moment unforgettable. After singing, we shared candies with them, which made the little ones even more joyful and engaged. We also sang for teachers and staff around the school, who truly appreciated the festive surprise. This activity was meaningful because it was not just about singing songs, but about bringing people together and sharing kindness. The warm and joyful atmosphere could be felt throughout the school, making everyone feel more connected.

This experience showed me that simple acts, such as singing Christmas carols and sharing candies, can create lasting memories and spread a positive Christmas spirit to students of all ages.
